

PARENTS AND CHILDREN TOGETHER
Keiki Day

February 3, 2017

Dear Teacher,

Parents And Children Together and The Honolulu Star Advertiser are happy to be sponsoring the Parents And Children Together Keiki Day Creativity Contest. We invite your students to participate in the contest that will culminate in the multi-island newspaper sale of the Keiki Day special edition of The Honolulu Star Advertiser, The Hawaii Tribune Herald, West Hawaii Today and The Garden Island newspaper.

The winners of the contest (two each, from grades 1 through 12) will have their work published in Honolulu Star Advertiser's special edition on Thursday, May 11, 2017. Winners will also receive over $100.00 in cash and prizes. The theme for this year's contest is "Everyday Heroes."

Enclosed are information sheets about the contest. We would like every student on Oahu to have the opportunity to share his or her work. The deadline for submitting entries is Monday, April 3, 2017 at 4:30 pm.

If you would like additional copies of the flyer to share with colleagues, please call our office at 847-3285. For more information visit our website at www.pacthawaii.org or www.pactkeikiday.org. We look forward to receiving your students' entries!

Sincerely,

Norma Spierings

Teachers

The Honolulu Star Advertiser, in cooperation with Parents And Children Together, will publish a special Keiki Day edition of the newspaper. Oahu students from grades 1 through 12 are given the unique opportunity to express themselves through their art and writing and be published in the Honolulu Star Advertiser for all of Hawaii to enjoy!

Students are encouraged to submit original stories, poems, essays or artwork for the Keiki Day Creativity Contest. Entries must relate to this year's theme, "Everyday Heroes" and be submitted by 4:30 pm on Monday, April 3, 2017.

Two winners per grade will be selected, and the winner's entry will be published in a special Keiki Day edition of the Honolulu Star Advertiser on Thursday, May 11, 2017. Winners will also receive over $100.00 in cash and prizes.

As you know, newspapers can be valuable educational tools. Parents And Children Together is working hard through various sponsorship efforts to make copies of the Parents And Children Together Keiki Day edition available to every student in Hawaii – a great addition to the day's curriculum!

Even better – have your students actually participate in the event by submitting their own work for inclusion. Teachers may introduce the idea through classroom discussion on this year's theme, "Everyday Heroes" ... and then let the creative juices flow!

“Everyday Heroes”

Suggestions for younger students:

Younger students may need more coaxing to unleash their imaginations, and often the most creative pieces we receive start from very simple ideas:

- What makes someone an everyday hero?
- Do you know one?
- Are you an everyday hero?
- Everyday heroes might not have super powers, but they have special powers that make them a hero to you. What kinds of powers does your everyday hero have?
- If you could be a hero for one day... what would you do?
- If you did have super powers what would they be that you could use in everyday life to make everyday a better day?
- Capes?...What do everyday heroes wear?

Suggestions for older students:

- How do people without super powers make the world a better place?
- Who is your everyday hero?
- Everyday we depend on people to help make our lives easier, to make it more fun, or just to help us get through the day. Do you know such an everyday hero?
- If you could be a hero just for one day... what would you be a hero of (or whose hero would you be)?
- Everyday heroes might not have super powers, but they have special powers that make them a hero to you. What kinds of powers does your everyday hero have?
- If you did have heroic powers, what would they be and how would you use them to make everyday a better day?
- Capes?... What do everyday heroes wear?
